

BLAIR ADMITS COX CHARGES OF CITY QUOTAS CORRECT

Assistant to Upham, G. O. P. National Treasurer, Names Three More Cities Than Charged by Democratic Nominee.

ALSO ADMITS $1000 LIMIT WAS LIFTED

Blair Tells Senatorial Committee Cox Under-estimated Extent of City Quotas

Paragraph Missing From Cox Copy Dealt With Big Subscriptions.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, September 9.—Charges by Governor Cox that the Republicans had fixed quotas and planned extensive fund raising drives in at least 51 cities and that the national committee had had a part in assessing the city quotas were admitted on the stand before the Senate investigating committee today by Harry M. Blair, assistant to Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer.

Reading from a document produced by Mr. Blair which he said was sent out in lieu of the much discussed "form 101," Senator Reed brought out that the treasurer's office planned to organize intensive drives in 54 cities, three more than the Ohio Governor mentioned when he read his list of 51 at Pittsburgh.

From the same document Senator Reed read that the local chairmen appointed in each city was to "accept the quota placed upon the city by the national treasurer."

"But he never did that to my knowledge," Mr. Blair interjected.

Mr. Blair produced a copy of that form and when it was compared to the copy of the same form which Governor Cox had sent to the committee by Edmund H. Moore, the Governor's copy was found to be incomplete. An entire paragraph which appeared in Mr. Blair's copy was omitted from that sent by the Governor.

This paragraph suggested that contributions of $5,000 to $10,000 be accepted, removing the $1,000 limit fixed by Chairman Hays. The copy furnished by the Governor merely suggested that contributions of from $5,000 upward be received. While he planned drives in 54 cities, Mr. Blair said, it was found impossible to carry out the program because of local conditions in some cities.

"You did though, contemplate organizing drives in 54 cities?" Senator Reed asked.

"Yes sir!"
"So if Governor Cox or any other man charges you had planned for organizing in 51 cities he simply underestimated him?"

"Yes sir!"

SENATOR HARDING GREATLY PLEASED

Expresses Himself As Delighted With Reception Accorded In Minnesota.

Believes People Are Thinking Deeply About Real Things

(By Associated Press)
On Board Senator Harding's Special Train, September 9.—On his way home from his first campaign trip Senator Harding declared himself highly pleased today with his reception by the people of Minnesota who cheered his speech at the state fair yesterday on agricultural issues and greeted him in tumultuous fashion when he rode through the streets of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

What the result might be on the future plans of the nominee was not revealed but speculation as to the possibility of more extensive departures from the front porch was enlivened by expressions of satisfaction with the trip.

"Minnesota and its splendid twin cities and the state fair organization," Senator Harding said, "seemed to have vied with each other in providing a strenuous, enjoyable and completely satisfactory day for us."

"Perhaps the thing that most gratified me was the close attention with which the wonderful audience on the fair grounds listened to a speech that was intended to present a constructive program. It was not an appeal for applause but a plea for thoughtful consideration of a great national problem. The people by their reception proved they are thinking deeply about real things and that is all we need to know in order to be certain of the future."

This couple is very close to the throne in the little grand duchy of Luxembourg. Princess Charlotte's sister is the reigning grand duchess. The princess was married during the war to Prince Felix de Bourbon de Parma, brother of the then empress of Austria. The above photo was taken last month.

LEAGUE URGED BY COX IN WEST

Tells Helena, Montana, Audience Material Benefit Will Result by United States Entering League

Doubt, Hatred and Distress Must Be Alleviated by The United States He Insists.

(By Associated Press)
Helena, Mont., September 9.—Arguments in behalf of the league of nations adopted to affairs of the West were presented here today by Governor James M. Cox. He outlined what he declared were practical material benefits to flow from the league.

"It has recently been figured," said the Governor, "that the cost of one battleship will reclaim two million acres of land. Multiply this by 48, the number of states adopting the plan of one battleship for each state, and you have a staggering total."

Urging the league, Governor Cox told his Helena audience the United States is looked upon "as a nation of quitters, prosperous and self-satisfied, while our associates as well as our enemies in Europe are starving to death."

"America cannot enter into the period of prosperity to which we are entitled," he said, "until the doubt and distress and the growing hatred against us created by the apostles of hate in the senatorial oligarchy are changed."

LEAVE XENIA HOME TO AVOID SCHOOL

Two Boys Are Held in Milledgeville Until O. S. and S. O. Official Arrives

Two boys, ages about 14 and 15 years, attempted to run away from the O. S. and S. O. Home at Xenia this week and got as far as Milledgeville before they were stopped Tuesday afternoon.

Two boys without hats and without extra clothing arriving in Milledgeville aroused the interest of the citizens and the constable thought best to hold them until an investigation was made. Superintendent Elton of the O. S. and S. O. Home was notified and said that they were boys attempting to run away.

They were returned to the Home in the custody of the Superintendent who said that the boys did not want to go to school and that they had started in their escape when they were sent off to their studies Monday morning.

Oeta citizens had also noticed the boys when they stopped there to buy a loaf of bread.

Many baseball fans of this city are planning to attend the major baseball attraction of the county this Sunday at Jeffersonville when Tigers will meet the Golds of the K. I. O. League of Cincinnati.

It will be the greatest attraction this Sunday because the Washington Athletics are going to Wilmington to meet the Clintons and this gives the Tigers and Golds a clear field.

Last Sunday and Monday the Golds played two games here and after losing the first came back strong in the second game. Jeffersonville will have its best lineup on the diamond with Hieronimus pitching and Clay Matthews working behind the bat.

PICNICS DRAW 500,000 PERSONS

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—More than 500,000 persons have this year attended the picnics given by industrial concerns in Pittsburg to their employees, according to the estimates of amusement park managers and a number of the most important are yet to be held.

Arrangements for these gatherings of workmen and their families are on a colossal scale and carried out by an efficient organization of trained engineers and office men. It occasionally happens, as in the case of the Clifton plant of the Carnegie Steel company, that no picnic ground was available. So the engineers selected a nice bit of virgin forest not far from the town, built good roads in and through it, erected merry-go-rounds and other traditional amusement devices, built refreshment booths and a dancing platform and when the thousands of steel workers and their families reached the place for a day's enjoyment, they found it complete as if it had been standing for years.

The quantity of provisions required for the entertainment for a big plant and its workers astonishes those who know little of such enterprises.

OLD ROADSTER MODEL 1908 STILL RUNNING

Owner Has Claim to Running the Oldest Car in the City and Probably in County.

O. E. Dawson claims the oldest automobile still in service in this city. It is a Maxwell two passenger roadster built in 1908 and engine number 12,522.

During the last year Dawson has driven the relic two thousand miles and it is still in good condition. He says it is worth a hundred dollars but he would not sell it for that amount.

There is no clutch but the gears are shifted much in the same manner of the cars today. The engine works smooth as velvet says the owner and he never experiences more than ordinary trouble with the mechanism.

Dawson doesn't think that there are many automobiles in the city or even in the county able to be a senior to his car in years of service or mileage.

It is the intention of the Committee to have opening day Tuesday, September 14th, one of the largest of the week, and all work is shaping towards that end.

FISH AND SNAKE STORY COMBINED

Some excitement was created at Cedar Hurst this week when a small lad who had caught a fish and left it fastened to the bank of the creek discovered that a water serpent had swallowed his choice catch.

His cries brought M. E. Hitchcock to the scene and seizing a large stone Mr. Hitchcock with unerring aim hurled the stone and struck the serpent, severing its body. The length of the serpent could not be ascertained, part of the body sliding into deep water.

Cedar Hurst residents are greatly relieved to know that the serpent is no longer alive to cause uneasiness.

The committee has not announced whether the elephant is a five or three toed species or whether it has any toes at all. The elephant will be one of the attractions in this city.

BIG GUARANTEE WANTED BY REDS

Price Named By The Cincinnati Baseball Club For Exhibition Game was Some Figure.

A few days ago the business management of the Washington Athletic Baseball Club, Messrs. Briggs and Reichert, thought they might make a ten strike by bringing the Cincinnati Reds here for an exhibition game against the local club.

The Reds were wired and asked to name their conditions and guarantee for a game here sometime this month. They wired back that so close was the pennant chase that they would not consider an exhibition game at this time but were devoting all their energies to winning the flag for Cincinnati. They said, however, that in case the Cincinnati club was put out of the running before the season was ended they might consider an exhibition contest.

In case they were put out of the hunting chase the Red management said a game would not be impossible and they would play for a flat guarantee of $2500.

It is not likely that the present World Champions will appear here until the price for championship holders goes down a bit. It would be impossible to get enough people in Sunside park to pay even a half of the guarantee asked even if the admission were doubled.

For The Children

A plea is made by a public librarian that more attention be given to the education of children in scientific works and particularly in geology.

The librarian points out that there are a great many books read by children on the subject of birds, animals and plants; that they find interest in certain books touching on astronomy, and that there are even fairly good books on chemistry to attract the younger folk. But there is nothing, the librarian says, of a style to engage the boy or girl concerning the structure of the earth and the materials of which it is formed.

Few people have had the chance to study geology in college. Few of the college age have any real interest in the subject. But the small boy to whom all the world and its works are a perpetual question, is interested. He would like to know where the stones come from, what makes the hills and how the river or creek maintains its course. It is a curiosity natural to the young, who have not yet acquired the adult habit of accepting wonders as a matter of course. And as mother or father are usually unable to answer such questions intelligently, it becomes necessary to have at hand books that will supply such information and stimulate interest in gaining further knowledge of relative matters.

The librarian also wants books on pond life and simple lives of American scientists and scientific explorers.

A librarian certainly should be in a position to know what the children want to read. Writers able to comply with such a demand should get busy writing this kind of books. He will do a worthy work who will serve to incite and develop among the boys and girls a keen and sustained interest in the globe we inhabit.

Safe-guard Men

An appalling thought in connection with the establishing of all big industrial enterprises and the erection of their necessary plants, is the cost in human life. The development and progress of our industrial life has taken an awful toll in human wreckage and while modern efficiency has advanced greatly over the rough-shod methods of American industry a generation ago, there is still the menace of constant danger.

The loss of life in the building of the Panama Canal reached into the thousands and other enterprises of lesser magnitude have also snatched life in terrifying numbers. One of the largest buildings in the world is now under construction in one of our great cities. Before its erection was begun insurance was taken out to cover the loss of thirty-five lives. The building is far from finished and already thirty-seven have been killed besides minor accidents.

In another city an enormous old hotel is being torn down for the erection upon its site of a mammoth plant. Insurance was taken out for twenty-five lives before the demolishing began and in the initial stages there have been seven victims.

It seems a cold-blooded proposition, the taking out of insurance with the knowledge that some workmen will be killed, but it is one of the necessary means of protection. Every precaution is taken in the work and there are emergency hospitals on the ground in readiness for any unavoidable accidents.

But the day has passed when the individual was merely an atom destroyed by the immense rolling juggernaut of industrialism. Aside from the humanity standpoint, no executive can afford to say, "I am not interested in accident prevention. It is absolutely necessary to safeguard men. Death and accidents interfere with regularity and speed. They delay individual operation—they are the disturbing things which interfere with production."

Safety is a factor in efficiency which must be reckoned with. It is a problem which is of vital importance to manufacturers and builders and in the future the old order of things resulting in what seemed to be unavoidable accidents, will give way to new methods of additional safety to life.

POETRY FOR TODAY

EVERYTHING
 Everything counts in a certain measure,
 Everything carries some meaning to all,
 Everything adds to our human pleasure,
 Everything matters unless we fall.
 And up through the simple we rise on stairs
 Of patient seeing to some clear height
 Where over the shadow of all our cares
 We stand in the glow of eternal right.

Blossom and bird and vine and tree,
 River and brook and the humble bee,
 Children and women and peace and pain,
 The summer sun and the latter rain,
 Voices and visions—they all combine
 In a definite purpose, a wisdom sure;
 Everything comes from a source divine
 Because of the love that must endure.

We dare not scorn or set aside
 The simple gifts of a common grace;
 The narrowest path grows long and wide
 And over it travels the human race.
 All we have is the gift of years
 From visions and dreams of the pioneers,
 And everything simple and sweet and true
 Is full of life's meaning for me and you.

BOTH NOMINESS FACE TO FACE WITH WET ISSUE

Anti-Saloon League To Make Public Records of Cox And Harding by Sept. 12th

Political Writer Says Cox Must Make Denial or be Classed As Decidedly "Wet."

BY MARK SULLIVAN
 (Copyright 1920)

Washington, September 9.—There are two communications, one on the desk of Senator Harding and a similar one on the desk of Gov. Cox, which soon will have an important bearing on the campaign. These communications deal with prohibition.

This "wet" versus "dry" issue will not down; it will come up again, and again. Specifically, it will be brought to the front again by an event which will happen on or about September 12.

The Anti-Saloon League has made up a record of the public acts and expressions of Harding and Cox on prohibition. These two records have been sent to Cox and Harding, with letters asking each of them if his record as made up represents the facts and if he has anything additional to say. In the letters transmitting these documents the two candidates have been told that the records are to be made public September 12, or soon thereafter, and that if the candidates have anything to say in qualification of the reports they should answer by September 12.

Your correspondent has not seen these two records as made up, but suspects that while of course they will be literal and accurate transcripts of the records they will not really show the distinction between Harding and Cox on this "dry" issue as clearly as is shown by many things less official but more convincing.

The truth is, there is some politics in the Anti-Saloon League. The birthplace of the Anti-Saloon League is Ohio, and it still cuts a larger figure in that state than anywhere else. If it were a mere matter of Ohio alone, there is little doubt that the Anti-Saloon League would help Harding and oppose Cox. But in the role of a national institution, the Anti-Saloon League includes a good many leaders from the south who are Democrats. Those Democrats want to avoid injuring their party and the result has been this compromise of merely publishing the records of the two men.

Regardless of what these records may say, the fact is that in the eyes of the country Cox is becoming increasingly identified with the extreme "wets." He cannot possibly afford to allow this to go on, unless he is willing to avow that position and take its penalties with its assets. In fact, if he does not repudiate it soon, it may be expected that later on in the campaign he will openly avow it.

As things stand now, the Liquor Dealers' Association of New Jersey has stated officially to its members that Gov. Cox was materially aided in his nomination by this and other affiliated liquor dealers' associations. It has stated further that "Gov. Cox . . . can be counted on to . . . lead the fight to remove the Eighteenth Amendment from the Constitution."

Gov. Cox must know that to have a statement of this kind publicly made about him and to fail to deny it specifically puts him in the extreme "wet" position. So long as he is in that position it is useless for him to attempt to carry the west on the League of Nations issue. When it comes to voting the west will put the "dry" issue ahead of the League of Nations issue. If Gov. Cox continues in this position, his tour through the west is a waste of time.

It is the best judgment of competent observers in the west, that on a "wet" issue Cox cannot get more than six electoral votes west of the Mississippi, aside, of course, from the three southern states on that side of the river. It is sometimes claimed that Cox can carry California on the "wet" issue, but the best judgment in California denies this.

Chairman White of the Democratic National Committee has intimated his belief that Bryan will be backing Cox before the campaign is over. Chairman White may know whereof he speaks; he may have had direct communication from Mr. Bryan. I have had no such direct communication since the San Francisco convention, but nevertheless I do not hesitate to differ with Chairman White.

I am familiar with what Mr. Bryan's friends in Nebraska are doing—friends so intimate that their activities may be regarded as a certain index of Mr. Bryan's sympathies. Judg-

How Many Miles From a Cord Tire?

Men are everywhere telling remarkable tales about mileage from Miller Cords. But remember that mileage varies with conditions. Size and load, road and care affect it.

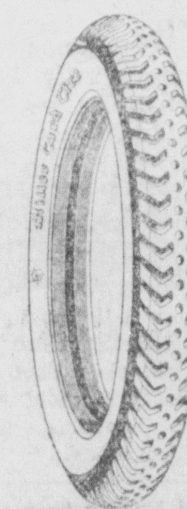

One man who has sold and watched many thousand Miller Tires says this:

"I find that Millers excel other tires in service from 50 per cent to 75 per cent."

The Hudson Taxi Co. of Detroit reports a 15,000-mile average on rather heavy taxis.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

After a two months vacation, the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Grace Methodist Church re-convened Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, the attendance especially gratifying with more than fifty women present.

Mrs. H. W. Wills the president was in charge, and after the usual business made an effective little talk, speaking of the loss of a very valued "perpetual member" Mrs. Angeline Mills. Reports of last year's work showed a decided increase in membership and finances.

Mrs. Wills read several communications. Of special interest were the ones from Kentucky, thanking the women for the books sent into the Rural Districts and from the Olive Hill School stating that Miss Verna Irvin, the girl whom the society has been educating, will be a Senior in the High School this year.

The enigmas in the mission paper were used with questions by Mrs. Wills, and answers by Mrs. O. S. Tobin, Mrs. Will Hay, Mrs. B. E. Kelley and Mrs. George Hays.

Mrs. William McClain's reading of "Mr. Friend O' Man" a book review, was splendid and introduced the program. Miss Mary Durant gave an entertaining reading, entitled, "Letters from an Irishman at the Front." Mrs. Kelley played a beautiful piano number, "Selection of Old Tunes." The two closing numbers a reading, "His Mother's Song" by Helen Sunkle, and a monologue by Miss Jane Durant, were especially well received.

Mrs. Henry Hildebrandt, Mrs. James H. Hendryx, and Mrs. Mary McCoy presented their names for membership.

The hostesses Mesdames F. G. Carpenter, T. W. McFadden, Nan Taylor, Pope Gregg, Ola Boyer, Frank DeWitt, Dan T. McLean, Thompson, Pine, Larrimer, C. W. Sadders Harry R. Rodecker, David S. Craig, Bell Marine, Misses Miller and McCafferty served tempting refreshments, during the social hour in the basement.

The first September meeting of the Sugar Grove Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the com-try home of Mrs. Roy Hyer near the Creek Road.

There was a very large attendance, the program dispensed with for the election of officers. Mrs. Pearl Darlington was chosen President, Mrs. Ruth Sturgeon Secretary, Mrs. Eva McCoy Recording Secretary, and Mrs. Leo Baughn Treasurer.

Mrs. Elva Post and Mrs. Alice Taggart, County President conducted the opening exercises and Mrs. Baughn who was Treasurer of the Union the past year gave her report. Mrs. Hallie Davis extended an invitation to the women to meet at her home on the Wilmington pike in two weeks.

Mrs. Hyer served delicious refreshments the women lingering together for a pleasurable social hour enjoying the hospitality of the home, which was attractively decorated with fall flowers. Music added to the afternoon's pleasure.

Forty guests witnessed the marriage at 8:30 yesterday of Miss Mary Elizabeth Gwinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gwinn, 1706 E. Broad St., to Mr. John J. Dauber, son of Mr. J. H. Dauber, Jackson, Rev. C. R. Havighurst read the service. The wedding music was played by Miss Zella Roberts. The bride wore a coat suit of brown duvety with hat of the same material. The only attendant was Mr. Donald Jones, Jackson, as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Dauber are now on a short wedding trip and after Oct. 1, will be at home at Seventeenth and Broad Sts. The bride was graduated from the Columbus School for Girls and has been a student at Sweet Briar, Va.

Mr. Dauber, father of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin White, Logan, were present for the marriage.—Thursday's Ohio State Journal.

"Washington: Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, who has been the leader for the past seven years in securing the ballot for women, will not be able to vote in November, when her many sister voters line up election day to exercise their new right.

"By her long residence in the national capital directing the work of the ballot campaign she lost her residence in New Jersey. No one can vote in the District of Columbia."

Ohio's 70,000 club women will be interested in some of the line features of the program for the annual state convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in Columbus October 18 to 22, inclusive. Mrs. T. J. Winter, of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the principle speaker for the Americanization conference on the afternoon of October 19. Mrs. Winter's topic is to be "Our America."

The General federation head will bring to the convention a message that is expected to be of vital importance to every club woman in Ohio. She will outline in detail the things that she hopes to see accomplished this year.

Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale is to appear on the program the afternoon of October 20. In the light of recent events her theme of "The Women of the Future" will be pertinent to the time and place. Certainly no one can be better qualified to handle such a topic than the niece of Sir Johnson-Forsythe-Robertson and one of the foremost women speakers on the American platform today. Mrs. Hale has recently returned to the United States after passing the greater part of the summer in England, where she made an exhaustive study of the feminine question. She will have a fund of interesting information for Ohio delegates.

Mrs. Julia Wade Abbott, Cincinnati specialist in kindergarten work, will be the chief speaker for the conference of the kindergarten division the morning of October 20. Miss Annie Laws, Cincinnati, is chairman of this department.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education, will speak at the conference of education, the morning of October 19. Mrs. Thomas Pierce, Harrison, is chairman of this department.

The banquet to be held the evening of October 21 will be followed by some Shakespearean skits under the direction of Mrs. James Kittle, of Columbus, the actors being the Sorosis Players of Columbus.

Mrs. Warren P. Williamson, of Youngstown, chairman of the federation's music department, is now busily engaged in arranging a musicale for Wednesday evening, October 20.

Mary Roberts Rhinehart's latest book "Affinities," was under discussion, when the Woman noticed that the eyes of the Red Cross worker but lately returned from the Far East were beginning to dance. She wondered about the connection between that twinkle and the name of one of America's most versatile writers, so she inquired.

"A distinguished major in the Red Cross," the worker explained, "is Tell

INADEQUATE STREET SIGNS AND NUMBERS CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

A stranger coming into the city this other day remarked that Washington Court House was a city of nameless streets. He said that this was occasioned by the fact that he was able to see comparatively few markers on the buildings at street corners.

Investigations shows that in the business district of the city indicators are displayed on the southeast corner of Fayette and Court streets; at the northeast and southwest corners of South Main and Market street and on the northwest corner of Court and Main street.

These markers are dim and worn and do not display prominently.

In outlying districts the streets without indicators are in the majority. The houses on which hang markers are usually old residence, it is noticed, and few names erected recently on corners have the signs displayed.

Strangers coming into the city complain that they are not able to locate individual homes, due to their not being numbers displayed. In almost every instance, it is declared, people must be located by inquiry, and street numbers are so far between that they are of little consequence.

G. O. P. NOT FOR ISOLATION SAYS GOV. COOLIDGE

(By Associated Press)
Portland Me., September 9.—The assertion that the Republican party stands for a foreign policy based on a recognition of the fact that the United States is not isolated, was made here last night in an address by Governor Coolidge, Republican candidate for vice president.

"Ever since the nation was established, ever since it adopted as its emblem the splendor of the rising dawn," Governor Coolidge said, "it has never been isolated. Not isolated but independent, free, rendering service to all mankind, not on compulsion but in response to the national conscience.

"The Republican party resents the imputation that it seeks to do any less than render that service now."

UNIFORM ACTS ARE ADOPTED

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wisconsin leads the states in the number of uniform acts that it has adopted as put forth by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, according to a summary by E. A. Gilmore, of Madison, Wis., secretary of the conference.

Of 30 uniform acts submitted by the commissioners, Wisconsin has adopted 21. Massachusetts stands next with 12.

Wisconsin is the first state to enact all the legislation relative to marriage and divorce drawn by the commissioners.

The uniform law which has been most favored is the negotiable instrument act. This has been adopted in all jurisdictions except Georgia and Porto Rico.

Two proposed uniformed acts have not as yet been adopted by any state. They are the table of weights and measures and the insurance policies act.

USES TELEPHONE FOR FIRST TIME

In a local canning factory one afternoon this week a call came over the phone for a woman who was working in one of the departments. Within a few minutes she appeared. It was noticed that she was a woman well past middle age.

"Was there a message for me?" she inquired. "Yes, answer the phone," the man in charge told her.

"But I never talked over one of those things in my life," was the woman's rather startling reply. "Try it any how," she was instructed.

The message that came over the wire and which she repeated mechanically when she had finished was that her little boy was ill and that she would have to go home at once.

"Funny," mused a bystander. "I thought every one had used a phone in this day and age, and to think that her introduction to it had to be under such distressing circumstances."

D'ANNUNZIO GIVES HIS STATE NAME AND CONSTITUTION

Gabriel d'Annunzio, the Italian soldier-poet who has held the city of Fiume against the world for nearly a year, recently made public the text of the constitution under which the new state he formed will be conducted. The state on September 11 will officially take the name of "Italian Regency of Guarnero."

SPIRIT OF UNREST REACHES LONELY ISLE OF SARDINIA

(By Associated Press)

Rome (By Mail)—The spirit of unrest has penetrated since the war even to such old world and out of the way spots as the Island of Sardinia.

Among these picturesque peasants, many of whom cannot read or write, though they are often people of dignified manner and strong character, public opinion is diffused by word of mouth and a strong party has arisen lately whose motto is "Sardinia Alone," who think that the Island, which is the second largest in the Mediterranean would be more prosperous if it governed its self and had little or nothing to do with Italy.

In ancient days Sardinia was one of the great granaries of the world, supplying first Carthage and later Rome with immense quantities of grain. Now a large proportion of the island is uncultivated and about one-fifth is covered with forest, chiefly consisting of holm-oaks and cork trees. The most valuable exports however, are from the mines of lead, zinc, antimony, copper, silver, lignite and anthracite, which if only thoroughly developed would be a source of great riches.

CANNING OF CORN IS AN IMPORTANT LOCAL INDUSTRY

Washington Court House Is Recognized As Center for Canning All Over Country.

Vastness of Product Turned Out By Two Canneries Is A Staggering Total.

Trip Through Cannery Shows Methods by Which Corn is Handled.

Few people of Fayette county realize the magnitude of the canning industry of Washington Court House and are not aware of the vast scale on which it is carried out each year.

With every season the canning industry occupies a more important place in the life of the community until the product turned out by the local companies, The Fayette Canning Company and The Sears & Nichols Company is almost staggering in its totals of canned goods.

Machinery of the most advanced type and equipment of the latest design enables the plants to take care of an ever increasing acreage and sweet corn growing has become an important business with the Fayette county farmer. Both plants this season will have brought to them the greatest harvest in their histories.

Canned corn bearing the labels of the local canneries and with the name Washington Court House displayed have done much to advertise this city during recent years.

An incident illustrating this was recently pointed out by a former local service man, when he told an incident that happened while in France.

With a squad of other men detailed for fatigue duty he had gone to the railroad yards to help unload a car of canned corn that had just arrived for commissary. Thinking only of when he was going to get through he worked almost all afternoon with hardly glancing at the cans as they were stored away. Then he noticed a familiar picture on one of the cans and discovered that it was the court house in Washington C. H.; under it was the name Washington Court House.

One feature of the canneries that strikes the visitor is the rapidity and sureness with which the corn is canned. Although the canneries runs but a few weeks each year it is capable of getting under way with every machine in motion within a few days.

One problem confronting the managers of the canneries is that of securing employees. With very few exceptions the help is "green" each season and must be "broken in" to unfamiliar work. But sometimes there is a man who hangs on year after year and looks forward to the canning season. One man employed at The Fayette Canning Company has been with the factory fourteen years.

Sometimes whole families will work in both local factories year after year. In both local factories there are families including both the father and mother and the older boys, who come from various points and remain in the city during the season, then they are seen no more until next year. Cannery superintendents are always glad to welcome this class of employment, for around these they are able to build their labor structure for the season. A Herald representative Wednesday visited The Fayette Canning plant and watched the corn from its raw state to the finished product. Wagons wait in line to go on the scales and in order to avoid congestion when a rush is on the drivers are issued numbers and their loads are weighed as the numbers are called.

Probably the feature of the canning is that the corn is worked through the plant by gravity. From the wagons it is carried to the top of the husking shed by conveyors and drops down in the shoots and feeds out to the man operating the husking machine. In this shed a reserve supply of corn is always carried so that the work may not be stopped when the wagons are not being dumped.

After passing from the husking machines a conveyor carries the ears to a cleaning apparatus where silk and any husks that may be clinging are taken off.

Leaving the husking shed by way of a conveyor the corn is taken to the top of the real canning building and there starts on its descent that finally finds it in the sealed can.

The top room is the cutting department and there the ears are fed to sharp knives and with lightning rapidity the corn is cleaved from the cobs.

From the cutting room the corn descends to the silking room where all silk which may have clung to the grains is removed. This is also a cleaning process. The syrup is injected into the corn at this stage of the process and it sifts down into the vat and from there into the canning machine.

Imagine a machine canning corn at the rate of one hundred cans a minute. Before it is freed the tops are sealed and it all happens so quickly that the eye is scarcely able to follow the almost human motions of the machinery.

Several men and boys are kept busy feeding cans into this machine from the floor above. It was stated at the plant that the Fayette Canning Company uses three cars of cans every two days and that these cars contain anywhere from 65,000 to 87,000 cans.

As fast as the cans are raked off the platform from the capping machine they are trucked into the cooking room where they are placed in bellies and cooked in live steam for seventy minutes. When they are removed the cans are so hot that if allowed to stand they would scorch the corn and to prevent this the trucks are shoved off into a pool where they cool in moderately warm water.

The next move is to drag out the trucks and shove them into the packing room where twenty-four cans are placed in a crate.

Sometime after the fall canning has been completed the cans will be labeled. An electrically operated machine is used.

To Produce 2,400,000 Cans Officials of The Fayette Canning Company expect to turn out 100,000 cases this season, and with each case containing twenty-four cans, this number will form the vast total of 2,400,000 cans. The greatest number ever turned out by The Fayette Canning Company in one day was 5,508 cans.

It is of the utmost importance that the cans be supplied to the factories

LUCKY STRIKE

"IT'S TOASTED"

LUCKY STRIKE cigarette—it's toasted. Lucky Strike tobacco—it's toasted. Both are toasted. You cannot get the remarkable and unusual flavor of toasted Burley tobacco in any other brand.

How is it that this toasting process preserves so successfully the original Burley flavor? Because it's sealed in.

Take the case of the bee and the honey. The bees have the right idea. To lock in that fragrant and delightful flavor of clover honey they put a thin coating of wax over the whole honey-comb.

You know yourself that honey can stand unbroken on a shelf for months or years, and be just as good when it's used.

And that's what happens with the Burley tobacco used in making Lucky Strike.

In each Burley leaf there are little pores like a sponge. In the heat of toasting these pores are sealed. The Burley flavor is there, inside.

When you light your Lucky Strike cigarette or your pipe full of Lucky Strike tobacco the heat releases the Burley flavor for your benefit.

on scheduled time and that nothing hinders when the plants have started. The firm from which the cans are purchased and which whom the factory has contracted guards against this by having a man in each district. Mr. Lewis Schlosser has the Fayette plant in charge and also oversees the factories at Jeffersonville, Yellow Springs and Bainbridge.

Canned corn is shipped from this city all over the country and under several different brand names. Special labels are sometimes provided by private companies and distributors but the name Washington Court House is always plainly seen.

Mr. D. S. Cochran is superintendent of the Fayette Canning Plant and has been in charge of the plant for several years, being familiar with every process and every piece of machinery. He ranks among the foremost canning plant superintendents of the state.

VISIT FESTIVAL AT GREENFIELD

Many Fayette county people are attending the Fall Festival in Greenfield this week and among Wednesday evening's visitors were a number of local merchants who attended with the express purpose of determining the character of the displays and of getting a few ideas for the booths which will decorate the streets here next week.

During the week Greenfield's Fall Festival has been a tremendous success and crowds from three counties have gathered there each day. Long lines of attractive booths containing fall goods and displays of almost every description add to the setting. Mr. Seerest of Chillicothe, who will manage the local Festival, is in charge.

Greenfield's auto show is of prominence and has created interest. Local men are looking forward to the prominence of the Fall Festival Auto Show in this city next week because of the fact that more than three hundred feet of space has been set aside for display of machines.

Tomorrow is the last discount day on gas and electric light bills.

SAYS TREASURE
SEEKERS DOOMED TO DISAPPOINTMENT

(By Associated Press)

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 7.—Searchers after buried silver on the mainland opposite Pete Island, 18 miles southeast of Corpus Christa, Texas, probably are doomed to disappointment, in the opinion of Dr. J. O. Dyer, a local writer on historical and scientific subjects. The rush of treasure seekers began with the discovery recently of 25 skeletons, popularly believed by many to be those of members of the crew of a Spanish treasure ship which foundered off the Texas coast early in the eighteenth century. No record is available of any such wreck.

The "life" of a skeleton buried in the sands of the beaches of the coastal country, Dr. Dyer points out, is not over 40 years.

He says also treasure ships from Mexico to Spain were discontinued after 1820, partly because of the activities of Jean Lafitte's fleet of buccaners.

Even before that time the Spaniards tried to avoid excessive losses from storms and Lafitte's fleet of buccanering vessels and 50 Spaniards transported less than 20 tons of silver bullion to the vessel. Then the current rate in Mexico was approximately $10 a troy pound. The most valuable of all of Lafitte's prizes, the Sevilla, carried only $150,000 in specie.

Lafitte's captured treasure, according to the records extant, was buried in three caches. Two of these were located on Galveston Island and the third on a small island to the east, which was completely washed away during a storm in 1829.

There have been many reports of the discovery on this coast of caches of coin or chests from trading ships containing from $2,000 to $15,000.

Leaving here Sunday, Sept. 12, a party of not more than four will be personally conducted to the irrigated section of the lower Rio Grande.

A special rate is arranged, all detail connections, meals, berths, etc., is looked after—you have nothing to buy after starting; the trip will cross Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, arriving Monday on the bank of the Rio Grande looking over into old Mexico. Sunday is spent in Galveston with a boat ride about the harbor and on the Great Sea Wall. Three days is spent in motoring over the Winter Truck Garden country and inspecting orchards of orange and grape fruit, alfalfa, cotton, corn, etc. While we shovel snow and ice, the people there market cabbage, carrots, beets, spinach, head lettuce, onions, etc., and there is no healthier section in this country. If you are a renter farmer investigate this more fully before you buy or rent.

Call Automatic 23401 and arrange to talk it over and see some late pictures.

Respectfully,
 A. R. STOKESBURY,
 408 S. Main Street.
